ROADS OF LAUGHTER

IN THE HOUSE AT THE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS AND HIS MACE.

When Words Between Mr. Reagan and Mr. Reed—Legislation Drags Its Heavy Length Along—Dorsey's Big Blanche.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Mr. Bligham (Pa.) after calling attention to the favorable fact that during the entire Congress the important committee on postoffice and post roads has not had a day for the consideration by the house of matters which it had matured, addressed the house in support of the new legislation which the appropriation committee had enacted on the bill, the interest of the committee. He earnestly urged the adoption of the proposed change of the minimum weight of letters from one-half to one ounce.

Mr. Bligham (Pa.) followed in advocacy of a more liberal allowance to American vessels for carrying the mails.

The discussion on the integrity put upon Mr. White (Ky.) by the sergeant-at-arms occupied a good deal of time. Mr. Keifer moved that a committee of five be appointed to inquire into the facts in the case. An extended debate followed. Mr. Keifer carried the time during which much confusion prevailed.

Mr. Reagan carefully examined the proceedings, saying that the business of the house was delayed every day by dilatory filibustering tactics.

Mr. Reed (Me.)—By whom? Mr. Reagan (Me.)—By the gentleman who is endeavoring to make a matter of the gentleman you put up—gentleman Reed. I am tired of seeing Democrats here and there for the purpose of the party of the majority in trying to control the house.

Mr. Reed (Me.) demanded that the word be taken down. While the reporter was writing out his notes, Mr. Reagan remained standing in the aisle.

Mr. White (Ky.) made the point of order that under the rule it was the duty of the gentleman to take his seat and await the action of the house.

The speaker said it was the duty of all gentlemen to be seated. (There were a half a dozen standing.) On a second demand for order, Mr. Reed, the deputy sergeant-at-arms, the officer whose conduct was under discussion, stood behind his desk and refused to move. When the words were by Mr. Reagan were read the speaker put him ruled that they were not intransigent. The words of the speaker, Mr. Reagan was allowed to proceed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—But two senators—Messrs. Fiske and Polk—were present at noon.

Missouri occupied the chair, and before the senate a communication from the secretary of the navy transmitting the report of Lieutenant Story on the recent Asiatic expedition.

Mr. Miller presented a petition from the New York produce exchange praying that the city of the Union may be placed in a position of safety, whatever foreign complications may arise. Referred to the committee on military affairs.

On motion of Mr. Sherman, from the committee on finance, the bill providing for the collection of Washington monument moneys, to be paid at forty cents apiece, was passed.

Mr. Van Wyck's bill to prevent the unlawful collection of public lands was passed. The bill passed by the usual vote. The committee on military affairs, authorized the president to employ civil or military force to remove and destroy such unlawful enclosures.

Accommodations for Washington Pilgrims. WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Because of the general late impression in regard to suitable accommodations for pilgrims during the inauguration ceremonies, the committee on public comfort has issued the following statement:

Chicago, now comprising "the directors of the White House" can't even lay out their annual meeting. Dorsey has half of the house, Alley a quarter, and Ingwersoll a sixth. The remaining quarters being held by the nameless Chicagoans. It was announced that the cash profits of the last year to be divided amounted to $400,000. After the five checks had been distributed, it was arranged that Dorsey and Ingwersoll should be relieved of all cares and responsibilities during the coming year. Dorsey was to take a trip to Europe. Alley was elected president, Dorsey vice president, and Ingwersoll secretary. The White House is claimed to be the largest ranch in the United States. Something like eighty stockmen were brought out before the company because of the loss of the horses. The stock was by ninety miles in extent, covering an area of 5,000 square miles. WHITE CROSS CRUSADE.

ORGANIZING A CHURCH MOVEMENT FOR PURITY AMONG MEN.

A Church Full of Men and Women Addressed by a Bishop and Judge—Christian Women Believed—Cesar Should be as Pure as Caesar's Wife.

New York, Feb. 11.—Every year in the Episcopal church of St. John the Evangelist, in West Eleventh street, was filled Sunday night when Rev. R. F. De Costa opened the meeting in behalf of the "White Cross Movement," which has for its aim "the maintenance of purity and the suppression of vice."

Many women were present and were attentive listeners. Bishop Barry of Iowa and half a dozen ministers sat in the chancel. Assistant Bishop Potter sent a letter saying the ladies also presented him from attending and speaking in earnest support of the movement.

Dr. De Costa told of the organization of the White Cross movement by the young men of the parish last year. It was modeled after the movement started in England by the bishop of Durham, and carried on with the same object in view.

A MISSING WILL UNEARTHED.

After Many Years the Lighted Fire of the House of a Hungry Man.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 11.—Early in the present century, there lived in Painesburg, Hungary, an old couple named Whitehead. They were very wealthy and had many children. One of the children was a young girl named Mary.

After many years the lighted fire of the house of a hungry man. The story of the Whitehead family is a tale of poverty and struggle.

Decorations of Dinner Tables.

The ladies vie with each other in trying to make the table artistically elegant. Chinese lanterns, Japanese umbrellas, velvet tablecloths, and subdued green and pink napkins are nice in their way. But decorate your table with a fifteen pound turkey or a royal rib-roast of beef with trimmings, and then let us have a good appetite to enjoy it. If your appetite is slack and your digestion poor, you need Brown's Iron Bitters, the best tonic in the world. Mrs. J. Dunham, Manchester, Iowa, was troubled with weakness and loss of appetite. Brown's Iron Bitters cured her.

The Lavinia Shannon Dramatic combination will begin an engagement at Carlisle on the 23rd inst., which will continue during the week, and will present a series of good wholesome dramas; "The Levee Man," "October," "The Victims" and other plays. Mr. Shine will personally superintend all productions which is a sufficient guarantee of every detail being properly cared for. All of the new scenery will be used for the first time and those who will have the pleasure of witnessing these performances will come away with the satisfaction of knowing that they have had the best acting ever done in Carlisle.

Amey Gordon Opera Company.

This troupe which was advertised to appear at the opera house last night, failed to arrive on account of the trains being delayed by a heavy snow at Fort Wayne, Ind. The company will arrive, however, by special train this afternoon at half-past two o'clock, and will appear in the well-known opera, "Girofle and Girofla," of which the following is a synopsis:

Girofle and Girofla are two lovely daughters of Don Bolero, a Governor of a Spanish Province adjoining the Moorish frontier. A double marriage is to be celebrated, Girofla to a kind young banker (Marquis), Girofla to a fierce Moorish Prince (Mourab), but a party of pirates carry off one of the brides, and the distracted parents naturally following, and the wedding night Don Bolero and his wife, Aurora, fall upon the expense of making both the innocents intoxicated. Mothers, however, get worse from the fierce temper of Mourab, and just at a terrible crisis the secret is revealed to the pirates, and restored to the family and her intended husband.

Act I.—Don Bolero's mansion on the coast. The brides and bridegrooms. Arrival of the pirates and capture of one of the brides. One bride between two husbands.

Act II.—The wedding festivities. Concoctions. The disguised bridegroom with one wife between them. The drinking song. How it sparkles, his drink divines. All how they prepare our eyes outshine.

Act III.—The day after the wedding. "Where is my wife?" "Is she my wife she can't be yours, I tell you, she is not mine." "Where is she?" "Terrible situation. The explanation in and tears of the second bride."

The Great Attraction at New Orleans.

The vast crowd of strangers attracted to the great World's Exposition of industry at New Orleans, looked with delight at the famous wheel, the 17th Grand Monthly Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery, on January 17th, last. It resulted that ticket No. 15,595 drew the first capital prize of $75,000, and was held by Mr. Thomas M. Thornton a prominent banker of Shelbyville, Ill., who collected it through the Third National Bank of St. Louis, Mo.; No. 57,741 drew the second prize of $25,000, and it was held in prize (each at $1,000) one to H. E. Browne, of Fairmont, Ind., who collected it through the Fairmont Bank; one to Daniel Smith, of Chicago, Ill., who collected it in person; and one to Lee Sampson, Seymour, Iowa; and the remaining portions were scattered elsewhere. No. 5,153 drew the third prize of $10,000, sold also in fifty; two-fifths collected through Exchange Bank of Dallas, Texas, for Mr. A. E. Hall, salesman for Sanger Bros., Dallas, and Mr. Fred Cheale, also of Dallas; one to O. J. Ferris, of Cincinnati, Ohio; another to Louis H. Kuchan, of Messrs. Nix, Krone & Co., also of Cincinnati; and so it went with $252,500 worth of lot tickets being sold in all three days. Next (the 17th) drawing will be on Tuesday March 10th, 1885, of which Mr. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., will give all information on application. Be wise in due time.

RICH BREEDINGGROUND

ANARCHISTS SOWING THE WIND TO REAP THE WHIRLWIND.

The Introduction of Foreign Labor, the germ of an Evil Organization—Something About its Workings as Learned from an Official.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 11.—A special from Mr. Pleasant, the heart of the Connellsville coke region, says: The wholesale introduction of foreign labor into this section of the state has furnished a wonderful breeding ground for every idea of anarchistic tendency. The men who now dig coal are of every nationality imaginable, but the leading ones who live on the cheapest food and labor, moreover, are principally of Hungarian, Pole, Austrian and Slavonian. Upon the ears of these men the doctrine of equality in riches and lands falls with peculiar accents. They know what slavery and serfdom mean, and anything that will place them in a position to enjoy the advantages which they are quick to realize the American possess, has a charm more potent to them than can be realized. The seeds sown by the anarchistic and socialistic societies have fallen upon rich ground, and their roots today are reaching the whole coke region. The anarchist organ, the Hamlet, admitted that there was a society composed of about 1,000 men, Bohemian and English, in the coke region. This organization has central offices in Colorado, Michigan and New York. Weekly dues are paid amounting to ten cents, and the total amount sent to the central office is $100,000. Many ideas leading toward the overthrow of authority were held as cardinal virtues in the society, which refused absolutely to answer. There are also in this region a number of socialists. Their plan of obtaining the much-desired result is enshrouded in mystery. A manifesto put forth by their national executive committee is dated at New York January 23, and is addressed to socialists, anarchists and Irish dynamite. It opens by paying its respects to the capitalist class, which dates to connect the socialist party with the London explosion, and the committee puts forth the following: "We are not in a position to declare that such acts of terrorism are prejudicial to the furtherance of their plans. It expresses an earnest desire for the freedom of Ireland, but desires that such acts be restrained by a conjunction of English proletarians. It further states that the laborer was made before socialism and anarchism, and that the complete organization of the workmen under the socialist banner will one day put an end to all oppression."

CHEAPER SCHOOL BOOKS WANTED.

The Republic of the North, Lippincott & Co. have

COLUMBIA, O., Feb. 11.—The present agitation of the school book question in the Ohio legislature is deemed unfortunate for the disunion party, not because something is needed in the way of reform, but rather because of the impracticability of every measure that has come up for consideration. It seems that the demand for cheaper school books arises principally from the fact that the books used in the past few years so many changes in the text books that the burden has become unbearable. Some of the bills introduced in the legislature to lower the cost of school books are not only impracticable, and, if adopted, would defeat the party in power at the next election. Mr. Rice, bill proposing for the appointment of a commission by the governor to buy copyrights or to arrange for the selection of an entire new series of text books to be printed in the penitentiary is regarded as a measure which should receive no further consideration from the legislature.

Other bills providing for the appointment of a committee to examine the various text books now in use, and to contract and adopt a certain series, the use of which is made compulsory in the common schools of the state, are also contemplated with suspicion, as it would tend to the successful publishers an absolute monopoly of the market. It is made in law for five years, and would secure aid and support from the state for a measure which such statements Allen O. Myers has so fariously maintained. Many conservative measures are in doubt as to the right of the state to say what text books should be used. Some very able lawyers contend that the state has no such right, and when the Legislature assumes to take from the hands of the people in any section the liberty to use such books as they choose and empowers a syndicate appointed by the governor to select their school books, the state is in violation of the constitution and denies the right of the citizen to educate their children according to their own desires. There are no less than six different bills now before the two houses, all of which are more or less impracticable. The people will demand local option in school books. Columbus schools will not, and can not, be compelled to use the same series of text books that are in use in Dayton or Cincinnati, yet it is a remarkable fact that in every bill the word "shall" is inserted instead of "may."

This state is not in a condition to enter the school book publishing business. The reform represented in the penitentiary, and in a dictionary of over $47,100 during the last seven months, and every penny and centavo introduced into the state has been long ago expended and permission to borrow $50,000 has been asked.

The educators are that every school book bill will be defeated unless a measure is introduced authorizing boards of education to make contracts with publishers for a certain period of time. The opposition to the further progress of the state in the way of education is such that all measures having appropriations attached stand equal only a slight chance of passing either house.
